The George at Burpham

Nesting in the heart of the South Downs National Park in the picturesque village of Burpham, just north of the A27 near Arundel, the 17th century George at Burpham was acquired by local villagers in 2013. Recently awarded Best Community Pub 2014 by Sawdays Guides, the tastefully redecorated pub serves fresh, flavoursome pub food with a twist, in relaxed surroundings. The daily menu ensures there is always something different to try, whilst the ever popular Sunday Lunches are a regular sell out. The George at Burpham also serves a range of interesting local Sussex beer, lager, gin, vodka, port, apple juice and mineral water - so plenty of reasons to visit.
